8. Adjourn

Patrick Souter informed the board about the Stanton family, whose connection to Getzendaner Park spans several decades. The Stantons formerly served as caretakers of the Park. Mr. Souter inquired about the possibility of dedicating the wading pool area to honor their legacy. He mentioned that the family holds a large annual reunion at Getzendaner Park, during which they collect funds to support the Park's upkeep. The Park holds significant sentimental value for the Stanton family. Mr. Souter also noted that he and Ronald Kevin Finch had been exploring ways to commemorate the family's contributions, particularly in the area where the wading pool once stood. To this end, they had approached staff about the potential installation of a commemorative 13x13 plaque with the following language:

“In 1920, the City of Waxahachie built a "wading pool" for its residents. E.F. Workman was the first caretaker, and the first lifeguard was Florence Chapman. After 30 years, Walter Lee "Bud" Stanton became the caretaker, and his wife Dorothy took on the role of lifeguard. The Optimist Pool was completed in 1952, which led to a decline in the use of the old pool. In 1956, a polio outbreak led to its closure, and the pool was filled in and turned into an Azalea grove in 1975. The Stanton family has been associated with the caretaking of Getzendaner Park for many years, and as a tribute to them, this memorial has been created.”

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 3:47 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Yadira Campos
